

The Art of Advocacy for Parents of Children with Special Needs

How to help your child access the services they require to reach their potential

Presented by Clair Schuman, Executive Director
ACT – Autism Community Training

Friday, November 14, 2008, 8:30 AM – 4:00 PM

Fletcher Challenge Theatre, Harbour Centre – Downtown Campus, Simon Fraser University
515 West Hastings Street, Vancouver

About the Workshop

Many parents are confused and frustrated by the complexities of systems they must navigate to find help for their child with special needs. These systems include: the Ministry of Health for diagnosis, Community Living BC, the Ministry of Children and Family Development for early intervention and out-of-school services, and the school system for services for their school-age children.

This workshop offers parents an overview of how to develop skills they need to navigate successfully through the hurdles they may sometimes encounter. Using the school system as an example, parents are guided through the components of empowerment necessary to become an effective advocate for their child. Specific guidelines and tips will be provided in this positive, practical, user-friendly and interactive seminar. This workshop is not disability-specific, but will be especially helpful for parents of children with “invisible” disabilities.

Topics will include:

- Knowing your rights and responsibilities
- Understanding roles and responsibilities of players in the system
- Decision-making and problem-solving
- Managing your choice of words, temperament and body language
- Learning the jargon
- Making a plan
- Documentation and the paper trail

- Collaboration and negotiation
- How to make a complaint
- A handout on contracting with service providers will be distributed.

About the Presenter

Clair Schuman has worked for over 20 years in the area of special needs for both government and not-for-profit agencies and is a social worker.

The parent of a teenage son with an Autism Spectrum Disorder, Clair has extensive experience as a workshop presenter on education issues and is recognized for her commitment to training families in the advocacy skills they require to ensure their children are receiving the supports they need. Prior to her appointment as Executive Director of ACT – Autism Community Training, Clair was the Provincial Coordinator for Education and Family Support for the British Columbia Association for Community Living and is a former Director of Programs and Services for the Autism Society of British Columbia.

In her own community, Clair has been the volunteer facilitator for the Tri-Cities Autism Community Group since 1999. Clair has degrees in Social Work and Psychology.

Just Ask! ACT Information & Support Services

ACT is a registered not-for-profit society, founded by parents of children with ASD in 2003. ACT's Information Officers are available to answer questions on which of our events would be relevant for the child or student you support. ACT also offers extensive information and support to families and community professionals on diagnostic, treatment and educational topics. We can be reached by telephone at 604-205-5467, toll-free at 1-866-939-5188, or e-mail info@actcommunity.net. Want to know more about our mission and the people behind ACT? See www.actcommunity.net/about_us.

Acknowledging Our Community Partners

ACT thanks the many parents and professionals across BC who volunteer their time to support our work. Our community volunteers range from local parents and community groups to members of our advisory board who provide a range of expertise. ACT gratefully acknowledges the Consortium for the Advancement of Child Health – SFU for co-sponsoring our events and providing excellent facilities in Vancouver at a reduced cost. See www.sfu.ca/autism-lab/. The commitment of our presenters is particularly appreciated.

ACT Bursaries & Special Rates for 2nd Parent

Parents may use 20% of their autism funding to pay for training workshops and travel costs. When both parents register to attend this event, the second parent pays only 50% of the registration fee.

Some bursaries for low-income participants and/or those traveling from outside their region are available. Before registering, see www.actcommunity.net/footer_navigation/bursaries or telephone ACT. Bursaries are provided as reduced registration fees.

Donations to ACT for our bursary fund are gratefully received and enable us to make our workshops more affordable as many receive no external subsidy. ACT is a registered charity: #86169 1236 RR0001. Tax receipts are issued.

About Harbour Centre, Workshop Schedule & Hotel Information

Harbour Centre is located at 515 West Hastings Street in Downtown Vancouver and is close to the Seabus terminal, West Coast Express, Skytrain and major bus routes. Parking is plentiful but expensive—public transit is a great option. Please see the ACT website at www.actcommunity.net for a detailed schedule of the day and hotel information or call or email ACT.
